Councillor for Shire of Wandering

Election type

Enrolment status

THOMPSON, Andrew is eligible to stand for election as a resident of the Shire of Wandering.

My name is Andrew Thompson, husband of Rachel and father of Jamie.

I recently retired from the Australian Army as a Sergeant in the Corps of Royal Australian Engineers after 13 years of dutiful service.

When I'm not working on the family homestead, I am employed as an Occupational Hygiene Advisor in a family business, where I monitor workplace hazards and workers health across a variety of industries.

After traveling all around the country, we fell in love with the Wandering Shire and settled down into our property in Blackboy Springs.

Shortly after moving to the area I volunteered at the Wandering Camp Out Weekend and was able to meet and work alongside so many wonderful residents of the Shire who make the community such a great place to be apart of.

While I wasn't born in WA, I'm now here to stay and I hope you'll consider me to be your representative on the Shire Council. A position where I will be able to continue to serve the community.
