WANDERING COMMUNITY GARDEN BUSY BEE

Monday 1st August

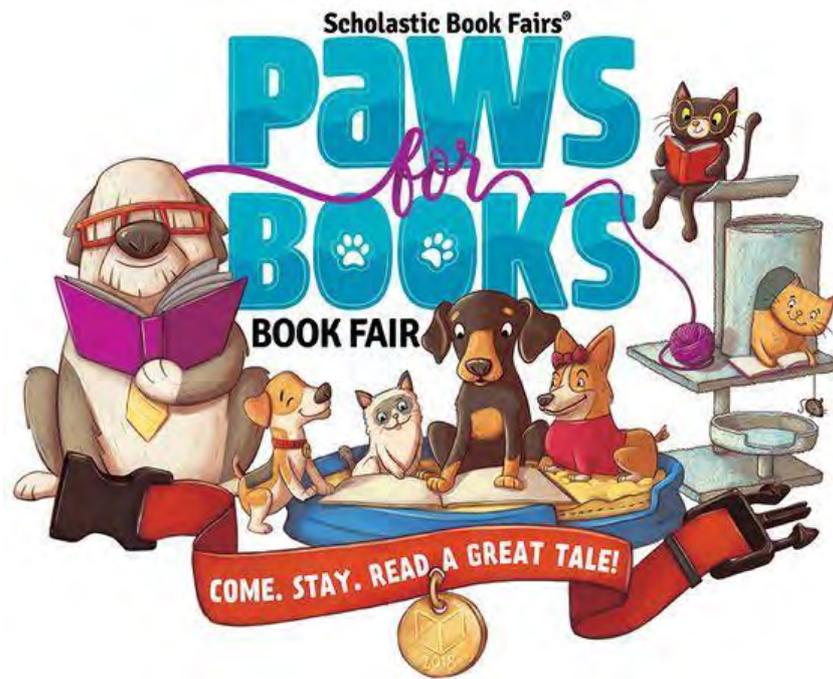

10AM

The frost has got to our beautiful community garden, after all the hard work from everyone for the past many months. We are now looking for any old small greenhouse structures or anything that can be used to protect the garden before we look at more planting.

After the last busy bee, we still have to install the wire into the poles for the trellis and put the colours on the poles now they have had a base coat.

Things are looking great, but we still need your help to get it all finished.

Come and find the purr-fect book at our next

WANDERING LIONS

The Lions team recently supported The Peel Harvey Catchment Council with a sausage sizzle at their planting day in the Pumphrey's precinct. A number of Lions also volunteered for the planting along with the industrious primary school students and local farmers.

Lions have for a number of years kept up a basic maintenance of the Pumphreys camping area and its' popularity has grown as a free camp site. The greater number of visitors has required more management. The river banks are to be stabilised and additional native plants will be planted in the area.

This last financial year Lions have strongly supported the organisations administrating funds to the support of fire affected communities of Corrigin and Wickepin.

We have been financially supportive of many research institutions including the upgrading of the mobile cancer screening bus, which incidentally will be present at the Fair in October this year.

The 'Containers for Change' revenue to Lions has been a very useful in enhancing our ability to contribute to many needy institutions. Apart from social and community connection Lions clubs create around Australia and indeed the world, we are also about service and financial support to those in need.

REGIONAL COLUMN

23 June 2022

With Senior Regional Officer for the South West, Annetta Bellingeri

Don't let a stressed ceiling go over your head

A sudden ceiling collapse can turn a comfortable home into a disaster zone in an instant, with the potential for serious injury and significant damage to property and possessions.

Consumer Protection recently became aware of two tenants who had been given seven days to vacate their rental property following the collapse of their living room ceiling.

As we step in to help the parties reach an agreement, we want to remind tenants, landlords and property managers that seven-day termination notices are unlawful unless the home has been destroyed or deemed uninhabitable by a local government authority.

There are often warning signs a ceiling is about to give way, so it is important for tenants to alert their landlords and agents about any loud cracking sounds, sagging or dropping of the plasterboard sheeting and/or cornice, or any visual cracking. Small circles or blisters (nail pops) in a line on the ceiling can indicate the plasterboard sheeting is pulling away from the nails or screws. Landlords need to respond to such reports and ensure necessary repairs are undertaken to prevent a collapse.

If a ceiling does collapse, landlords are legally responsible for bringing the property back to a liveable condition and must initiate these urgent repairs within 48 hours.

Should the landlord or agent fail to respond to a written request for repairs within a reasonable timeframe, a tenant may serve a breach notice. If the issue continues to be ignored, an application can be made to the Magistrates Court for an order that the necessary repairs be undertaken.

While it is important to keep paying rent until the matter is resolved, a tenant is entitled to ask the court for a rent reduction if the issue means part of the property – such as a second bathroom – is unable to be used.

We always recommend tenants arrange their own contents insurance in case they need to replace damaged possessions. However, if the damage is caused by a fault in the building, such as a lack of maintenance, then a tenant may decide to seek compensation from the landlord through the courts.

If a tenant believes their landlord or agent has failed to initiate repairs in a reasonable timeframe, or has issued an unlawful termination notice, they should contact Consumer Protection on consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au or 1300 30 40 54.

Go Dry this July

Cancer Council WA is encouraging people to quit alcohol for the month of July, in a bid to raise much-needed funds for the 13 11 20 Cancer Information and Support Line; a free service for all Australians affected by cancer.

Going dry for July is a great opportunity to look at how you can reduce your overall alcohol use. Alcohol is a cause of cancer; research shows that every year more than 3,200 cases of cancer can be attributed to alcohol use, such as mouth, pharynx, larynx, oesophagus, liver, bowel and breast cancer in women.

There is no safe level of alcohol use, as any level increases the risk of developing an alcohol-caused cancer. The more you drink, and the more often you drink, the greater your risk. To reduce your cancer risk, the message is avoid alcohol.

Committing to the Dry July fundraiser is a great way to raise funds for an important cause. Our 13 11 20 Information and Support Line is a confidential service run by experienced cancer nurses and is available to those affected by or concerned about cancer. This service is not government funded – it is funded through the generosity of donors and fundraisers.

The service connects West Australians with relevant support, information and resources to help them through their cancer journey. Last year, the service provided support to more than 5500 West Australians.

To sign up to Dry July visit <https://www.dryjuly.com/cancercouncil>

For more information about Cancer Council's support services, visit cancerwa.asn.au

If you do drink, drink no more than 10 standard drinks a week and no more than 4 on any day to reduce your risk of harm from alcohol.

For cancer information and support call 13 11 20

WORKS UPDATE

- Winter maintenance grading of gravel roads has commenced and will be ongoing over the winter months.
- Road construction work on the York Williams Road between Pumphreys Bridge and the Shire of Williams Boundary is complete. The remaining gravel resheeting on this road between Joe Kelly Road and the Shire of Williams boundary has been placed on hold until the Shire wide maintenance grading has been completed.
- George Road culvert upgrade work is complete. This work will reduce damage to the road during heavy rain events at this location when flood water normally flows over the road scouring out the road surface.
- Due to public feedback regarding motorists traveling on the York Williams Road and not giving way at the Wandering Pingelly Road intersection, the Shire will be undertaking a Road Safety Audit in early July as part of a Black Spot Safe Systems review of the intersection. This will devise the best cost effective treatment to prevent possible fatalities on this section of road.
- Winter weed spraying has commenced along Shire road verges so to reduce weed growth on the gravel shoulders and table drains. Stopping weeds growing on the gravel shoulder of sealed roads will reduce rain water softening the shoulder, causing road failures along the edge of the bitumen seal.
- The insurance claim for the earthquake damage at the CRC building has been settled. Repairs are programmed for November 2022.
- The installation of four water tanks for fire fighting purposes is progressing well and they are ready to be filled. The remaining work on the Blackboy Springs tank is to have a Water Corporation contractor connect it to the water mains. This project is fully funded by the state government as part of DFES support for additional water resources in rural areas during bushfires.
- Wandering Fire Station upgrade - the installation of a septic system for the first stage of the project is underway with completion scheduled in early July.
- Main Roads WA will be undertaking a Level 2 Bridge inspection on the 14 Mile Brook Road Bridge in the next six weeks as part of their five yearly annual inspections. This will involve a part road closure while the bridge is being inspected.
- If you have any concerns with Roads, Parks or Shire Buildings please lodge a request by using the camera on your phone to scan the QR Code below, going to our website <https://www.wandering.wa.gov.au/forms/feedback-form/6> or contact the Shire on 9884 1056.

Wandering Golf Club Report June 2022

* Ladies Open Day ****

It gives me great pleasure to recap on what was an amazing Wandering Ladies Open Day on June 17th. With ladies attending from various golf clubs around the region and beyond, it was guaranteed to be a day filled with laughs, tough competition and of course champagne! Unfortunately some one forgot to invite the sun, so not only was it a competition against one another, it was also a race to beat the rain.

Due to amazing sponsors, no one went home empty handed - whether they were lucky enough to win a prize in the raffle or a novelty during the 19 holes. The sponsors we wish to thank include Wool Agency, Dawsons Funeral, the Cornish and Inkpen Families and Country Wide Insurance.

The day kicked off at 10am sharp with a shot gun fire start and was well catered for with many of the Wandering Golf Club ladies supplying beautiful nibbles and desserts which were served by amazing volunteers. A special mention goes to Robyn Anderson for the amazing flower arrangements which were placed in golf ball boxes and scattered through out the lace covered tables.

A huge congratulations to all the Wandering Golf Club members who volunteered before, on and after this event - their was nothing but amazing reviews on how great the greens looked and how well the day ran!

Please see below for results from the open day:

Wandering Golf Club Great Southern Men's Championships

2nd – 3rd July 2022

If you haven't seen your husband for the past weekend and they now appear to be walking a bit stiff or nursing a hangover, you are like many other women in the Great Southern who identify as a "Golfers Wife" and their husbands have been playing all weekend at the Great Southern Mens Championships! This event is very popular and with 36 men playing 36 holes over two days, the competition was going to be fierce. With the best of the best from Narrogin, Wagin, Darkan, Williams, Katanning, Cuballing and of course Wandering, playing on an absolute superb course at Wandering Golf Club, there were no excuses if you were off your game.

Before we get into the results, we must first thank The Great Southern Association for letting us hold this event and Summit Fertilizers for their ongoing sponsorship and providing the most amazing prizes for all our winners and runner ups! Without amazing sponsors, events like this would not be possible! Equally as important is the volunteers who give their time freely to ensure the greens and fair ways are in peak condition, the bar is stocked and everyone plays on a full stomach! Thank you to the ladies in the kitchen for providing lunch, afternoon tea and dinner for the whole weekend and a special mention to Deb Schorer for doing the cards over the two days as well! Protecting On-Farm Habitat

Mike Burges and Christine Townsend

It is wonderful to work with and support Hotham-Williams landholders in their efforts to protect and enhance on-farm habitat for threatened species. Landholders have completed fencing for their Numbat Neighbourhood Community Environment Grant Projects and it has been great visiting these properties to admire the work that has been completed.

PHCC is in its 5th year of the Numbat Neighbourhood Project and to date we have supported landholders to fence to protect 600ha of on farm habitat through over 50km of fencing. Grazing stock degrades bushlands as they eat and trample native vegetation, can ring bark trees, compact the soil and spread weed seeds. Over time grazing will gradually degrade the vegetation until only older trees and shrubs remain and no seedlings survive. Removing stock from on-farm patches of bushland allows the vegetation to regenerate and enhances this habitat for threatened species.

We will continue to support these landholders to further enhance this on-farm habitat through direct seedling, monitoring and habitat augmentation. We are also planning a workshop to assist landholders to monitor these bushland patches for native fauna and to enhance the habitat by installing nest boxes and hollow logs.

Volunteer with us...

Caring for our catchment is a huge task. If you would like to volunteer to help in any way – from planting trees, assisting at events or monitoring projects – please contact us, we would love to hear from you.

PHCC Working Together
Peel-Harvey Catchment Council

Edition 66
July 2022

NRM is the management of natural resources such as land, water, soils, plants and animals. It brings together land use planning, water management, biodiversity conservation and sustainability of industries such as agriculture, mining, tourism, fisheries and forestry.

Meeting with the Threatened Species Commissioner, Dr Fiona Fraser

Christine and Mel met with National Threatened Species Commissioner, Dr Fiona Fraser and adviser Elliott Bell along with Peter Lacey (Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions (DBCA) to discuss PHCC's new Dryandra Woonta (Noongar word for shield) project. PHCC have recently been awarded $221,100 over 12 months through the Australian Government's Environment Restoration Fund as part of their Threatened Species Strategy Action Plan, Priority Species Grants.

The funding will help to expand on current programs and fill management gaps in the wider Dryandra area. It will also allow us to expand our efforts and continue working collaboratively with local landowners and DBCA to reduce the threat from feral cats, foxes and pigs into Dryandra and satellite areas.

Key activities will be:

- A Felixer™ feral cat grooming trap trial on private property, ecological linkages and satellite reserves, in a previously non-trialed area of Australia

- DNA analysis of feral cats of areas to better understand their sources in Dryandra surrounding areas to guide future management
- Expanding management of feral cats and pigs around Dryandra, reducing the density of predators available to reinvade
- Landholder workshops and Traditional Owner engagement
- Preventing the invasion of feral pigs in an area they are currently uncommon

Activities from the project will benefit a range of other native fauna and Threatened Eucalypt Woodland Communities of the WA Wheatbelt. During Dr Fraser's visit we were able to visit the Felixer™ unit currently set up on private property as part of the non-toxic trial. It was great to showcase the project and also discuss the successes of our Numbat Neighbourhood and Farmers for Fauna projects.

We look forward to sharing updates and results of the work in partnership with the local landholders and DBCA over the next 12 months.

Saltbush Fodder Projects Growing Fast

With a long history of Landcare work on his property, Graeme Dent was keen to establish saltbush on a saline area of his farm near Popanyinning last year, after seeing some reduction in his crop yields over recent years.

Through PHCC's Community Environment Grants, Graeme undertook fencing and planting of an 11ha site prone to waterlogging with three types of Saltbush below one of his dams. The project aimed to establish over 6,500 deep-rooted perennial plants (Atriplex spp.) and use fencing to manage stock access to the area.

The Old Man Saltbush (A. nummularia) has grown very well during last year's warm weather and the seedlings have really taken off, with some over 80cm in height already. The Creeping Saltbush (A. semibuccata) and River Saltbush (A. amnicola) are also doing well.

Talking about his project Graeme says it's great because "we are using the water that's there, and the Saltbush is good because we can turn it into fodder".

Graeme plans to continue planting the site with more saltbush this year and will be able to use the area for grazing later in 2022 given the current growth rates.

Through the Greening Farms project, the PHCC has been supporting landholders across the catchment undertake similar projects to turn unproductive saline farmland into fodder for sheep using saltbush, while also increasing vegetation cover in the region.

Restoration Underway at Pumphreys Bridge

"My family is from here, this is our country... We acknowledge the past, and now I live for the future."

These are the words of Jock Abraham who Welcomed us to Country before planting at the Pumphreys Bridge River restoration site on Thursday 23 June. The site was historically a permanent camping ground for Noongar families and today provides an enduring anchor point for gathering to honour memories and culture.

The weather teetered on drizzly but gave us a few rays of sunshine during the first restoration effort at Pumphreys Bridge under the Hotham-Williams River Action Plan. The day began with a cuppa and morning tea in the CWA hall, provided by local members of the Association.

The Wandering Primary School, Lions Club, Shire staff and Councillors joined PHCC officers in placing the seedlings as a buffer between the camping area and the remnant bushland attached to the Hotham River. Local native species were planted under the existing jam wattles, which will provide a shrubby plant layer for weed suppression and habitat for small ground-dwelling fauna species.

Pumphreys Bridge is truly shared country, layered with rich Noongar history and more recent Wadjela ways of life reflected in the camp and picnic grounds, old sports grounds (now used for camping), and CWA hall. The Wandering Lions Club have played a big part in the establishment and maintenance of picnicking facilities at the site for many decades. They also provided the planters on the day with a much-needed sausage sizzle!

SOUTH32 WORSLEY ALUMINA DONATES TWO FIREFIGHTING TANKERS

South32 Worsley Alumina has donated two firefighting tankers to Wandering Volunteer Bushfire Brigade, in Western Australia's Wheatbelt region.

The modern tankers are being provided from South32 Worsley Alumina's Boddington Bauxite Mine where recent fleet upgrades have made them surplus to requirements.

The tankers will significantly boost Wandering Volunteer Bushfire Brigade's response and prevention capabilities across Wandering Shire and beyond. The brigade plays an important role protecting the local community from bush and grass fires - and provides assistance in other areas as required.

South32 Worsley Alumina Vice President Operations Erwin Schaufler said "All of our local emergency teams do an amazing job, often working in difficult or dangerous circumstances to keep our communities safe. We greatly appreciate their efforts and wish them well.

"We are proud to provide these two modern firefighting tankers to Wandering Volunteer Bushfire Brigade, further boosting its capability to prevent fires and protect land and property across the shire."

Wandering Town Brigade Captain Shaun Brand said "We thank South32 Worsley Alumina for its donation. The addition of two firefighting tankers to our fleet will significantly boost our prevention and response capabilities, enabling our volunteer crews to cover more ground carrying more water, firefighting equipment and supplies."

Shire of Wandering Acting Chief Executive Officer Ian Fitzgerald said "We have a very active and committed group of volunteers who work together to help keep our community safe. The generous donation of two modern tankers will add to the resources available to the volunteers to perform their vital role within our community. As a small rural shire with limited capacity the assistance provided by South32 Worsley Alumina is greatly appreciated by the Council and the wider Wandering community."

To all God's holy people in Christ at Philippi

Gateway Anglican Parish, including St Martin's Wandering, is focussing its learning for the next couple of months on an ancient letter written to a ten-year-old church in the Greek city of Philippi. Philippi has the honour of being the first European Christian church ever, started in about 51AD. The missionary Paul (and his apprentice Timothy) wrote to them after they sent him supplies in about 63AD because he was in prison in Rome. The church there started in a pretty dramatic way. A Jewess dealer in purple cloth, a demon-possessed slave girl, and a Roman jailer were the first Christians in town! Paul had been literally broken out of prison by God, who sent an earthquake and opened all the cell doors. When the jailer in charge of the prison saw this disaster (from a jail's point of view, it's kind of a big problem), he took out his sword to kill himself. But Paul spoke to him about Jesus, and his life was transformed. The jailer and the others were probably still in the church a decade later and could have read Paul's letter. Paul had been thrown in prison in the first place because the owners of the demoniac slave girl realised that now she was in her right mind, they couldn't make money from her fortune-telling anymore. So they reported Paul to the authorities as a trouble-maker.

You can visit the ruins of Philippi today in north-eastern Greece. In the opening words of his letter, Paul tells them how much happiness they bring him whenever he calls them to mind:

"Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus,

To all God's holy people in Christ Jesus at Philippi, together with the overseers and deacons: Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy..."

THE VILLAGE NEWS

The Village now has 74 foundation members. Many are people not needing a service at this stage and have joined willing to help others as volunteers.

On Thursday 16th June we had a delightful morning tea in Cuballing at the CWA Hall where about 10 members and potential members came to hear about the broader concept of Staying in Place and The Village. Most of the conversation was about how beneficial Staying in Place will be to older people wanting to stay living in Cuballing and how the Community Managed Care approach for people who receive home support packages will also be of economic benefit to the local community.

Many thanks to Julie Christensen and Michelle Atwell for organising the opportunity to meet. Julie is now on a great hiking adventure for a few weeks.

A team of four Activity Coordinators have now commenced part-time – one for each community. You may receive a call from them in the next couple of weeks.

The team of Activity Coordinators are -

- Lee Muller in Wandering
- Libby Heffernan in Wickepin
- Michelle Atwell in Cuballing
- Kristel Steel in Pingelly.

For those members who have already given us their filled-out activity interest forms – we have passed your information on to the Activity Coordinator in your community.

Don't forget The Village Passport competition. Some people have handed in passports with only the names of places in their own community filled out! You need to fill out 20 of the names and get recent photos from at least 4 places out of the 20.

We are now working on the formal launch of The Village across all four communities – on the 4th of August we will be having a morning tea in Wickepin and lunch in Cuballing. On the 5th of August, we will be having morning tea in Wandering and a sundowner in Pingelly. You are all welcome to attend these events.

Upcoming events –

- Lunch trip to Yearlering Hotel from Wickepin – 29th June
- BINGO – 1-3.00 pm Wednesday 6th July Ern Lange Hall in Pingelly
- Passport – 28th July closing date for receiving completed passports.
- Official Launch – morning tea - 4th August Wickepin
- Official Launch – lunch - 4th August Cuballing
- Official Launch – morning tea – 5th August Wandering
- Official Launch – sundowner – 5th August Pingelly.

As always, please call the concierge team on 08 98871409 for any information that you as a member may need to help you stay living at home - such as eligibility for the pension, Commonwealth home care packages, carer allowances, NDIS plans and more - or if you know of a person who wants to become a foundation member.

See the website stayinginplaceinthevillage.com.au or contact your local CRC or Shire Office in Cuballing for an expression of interest form. Free membership applies for foundation members.

Best wishes,

Men's Sexual Health and Wellbeing

BY THE REGIONAL MEN'S HEALTH INITIATIVE
July 2022

Now that I have your attention, please read on. Men's sexual health and wellbeing encapsulates three broad areas; it is about the physical (male reproductive system; our anatomy); mental (psychological wellbeing); and our social/spiritual wellbeing (effective communication, knowing ourselves, our identity).

What are some of the components that make up men's sexual health and wellbeing?

- What is sex?
- What is the prostate and its problems such as enlargement and cancer?
- Erectile dysfunction.
- Infertility and testosterone deficiency.
- Testicular cancer.
- Sexually transmitted infections.

Now, because I'm a bloke I want to talk about a couple of bits that aren't discussed very often. The first point is sexual dysfunction in men. Because us blokes don't talk about sexual health in a holistic way there is a lot of myth and secrecy about what presents as normal sexual function. Quite often men boast about their sex life and/or the lack of it, but this is different from our overall sexual health. What is normal sexual health function?

There is some recent research which is a great guide in what may be normal regarding sexual function. Whether we want to believe it or not this is linked to age. It goes like this:

- In our 50's – 50% of men are sexually dysfunctional.
- In our 60's – 60% of men are sexually dysfunctional.
- In our 70's – 70% of men are sexually dysfunctional.
- In our 80's – 80% of men are sexually dysfunctional.

It is a normal part of ageing, and us blokes need to talk about it a lot more so it's not a great shock to us when it starts to happen. Is there more to life than sex and what is sex? It is a biological activity that all living creatures partake in, both to propagate the species and for enjoyment. The latter presents the biggest problem with human sex and that is males and females having different sexual needs (which can be challenging for some men). We can't have a positive sexual relationship without connection and intimacy.

To maintain a positive connection, the social/spiritual aspects of our relationship require constant attention. This connection then allows everything else to fall into place.

Some important points to remember in relation to men's sexual health are:

- talking to your partner and your doctor is essential;
- suffering sexual dysfunction increases in men over 50 years of age;
- sexual dysfunction can be a sign of other diseases such as diabetes or heart problems;
- quite often the problem is a combination of physical, mental and social/spiritual wellbeing;
- try and maintain a health and fitness program.

Only by getting men to talk about sexual health will we be able to encourage men to open up and seek treatment, be able to give constructive positive support and ultimately improve that area of a man's life that is vital for overall health and wellbeing. If necessary, book in and see a GP.

Seeing us: Referral

There are several ways you can be referred to the Wheatbelt Mental Health Service including:

- Self-referral – where you walk in or ring and ask for help (Northam and Narrogin only)
- Family / carers referral – where someone who cares for you asks for help.
- Doctors, GPs, hospital, or other primary care providers – when they feel specialised services may help you.
- Other service providers – schools, court, government agencies, support groups, private counselling, aged care facilities/community-based services, psychology or support services and non-profit organisations.

There is “no wrong door” and all referrals will be reviewed.
